PARK AUTOS NEXT TO CURB

SYSTEM IS CHANGED ENTIRE LENGTH OF MAIN STREET.

RELIEVES CONGESTION

White Lines Are Painted This Morning—To Be in Full Effect First Part of Next Week.

Parking next to the curb on all but one block of Main street became effective today. Mayor W. O. Garrett said this morning that this system of parking of automobiles will be tried out for a while, at least, and is being put into effect with a view to lessen the congestion of traffic on Main street, especially between Fourth and Second streets.

On account of lack of time this morning the painters did not get the block of Third to Fourth streets on Main outlined with parking lines and center parking on this portion of Main was continued today. Just as soon as the painters can get the white lines marked on the pavement next to the curb between Fourth and Third streets will become effective, which will probably be the first of next week.

The street department force was out at 5 o'clock this morning under the direction of Mayor Garrett marking parking spaces with white paint on Main street and Third street. Parking in the center of the street is prevalent now only on Third street between Buchanan and Market streets and on Fourth street between Market and Main streets.

It was just recently that the city administration changed the parking system on Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets. Previously automobiles were permitted to be left in the center of the street on this block on Main street, but parallel parking was inaugurated about two weeks ago, and eighteen foot stalls parallel to both curbs marked out with white paint.

On Main street between Second and Third streets the same practice became effective this morning. However, there is a difference made in the parking regulations on Main street between Third and Fourth streets, the most congested district in the business section.

On the west side of Main street between Third and Fourth streets just a white line has been painted on the pavement parallel to the curb, and the motorists are given the liberty of pulling into the curb at their own discretion.

On the east side of Main street, between Third and Fourth streets, abutting the curb of the courthouse lawn, parking spaces have been designated with white paint for cars to be parked at an angle, that is, the right front wheel of the vehicle to be run up next to the curb, leaving the vehicle at an angle to the curbing.

Saftey zones at the intersections have been marked on all the thoroughfares, but the parking system now used on Main street means that the pedestrian should be observant of vehicles coming from either direction.

The parallel parking system was agitated two summers ago and expressions from the business men were obtained as to their opinion as to whether parking next to the curb or in the center of the street was more convenient and safer. There may be a little opposition yet to parallel curbing on Main street but the city administration takes the view that it alleviates the congested traffic and will be much better, especially after the state highways are opened up as routes 27 takes Main street the entire length of the city.

Ask Change of Venue in Trial of Klansmen

Indianapolis, May 23.—Alleging bias and prejudice against the defendants, counsel for D. C. Stephenson, former Klan head in Indiana, and Earl Klinck and Earl Gentry, facing trial for murder as a result of the death last month of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, 28, filed a motion in criminal court here today for a change of venue.

The three were to have been tried here on June 2. Judge James A. Collins told the opposing attorneys to agree between themselves on an adjoining county to which the case should be sent.

MAY FETE IS BIG SUCCESS

PAGEANT IS COLORFUL AND A SPECTACULAR AFFAIR.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

On Throne That Is Literally Bower of Flowers, Miss Ora Mae Condon Is Crowned Queen of May.

Just as the sun was sinking over the dark green evergreen trees in the west, and on a throne that was literally a bower of flowers, Miss Ora Mae Condon was crowned Queen of May Day, at the festivals held yesterday afternoon.

The pageant was a colorful and spectacular affair and the large crowd that gathered on the College campus, southwest of the main building, thoroughly enjoyed the entire May Fete.

The long and dignified procession started from the west entrance of the College building proceeded across the campus to the throne.

In stately order, heralds, gay colored flower girls and crown bearers, followed the Queen, who was robed in a dress of green and gold was riding a handsome white charger. Immediately by the queen's side was her pages and guards. Her ladies-in-waiting with pages, nobles, and the Sheriff of Nottingham, dressed in red and riding horseback came next in order. These characters were followed by nearly two hundred dancers representing milkmaids, fools, witches, chimney sweeps, hobby horses, strolling minstrels, singers, tumblers and wrestlers. Their costumes were bright and true to the old English dress in every detail.

The queen was assisted to her throne by Merle E. Selecman, the sheriff of Nottingham, and a crown of flowers placed upon her head. The dancers then came before the queen and gave their dances and games. A strong wind from the south prevented the winding of the May Poles.

From the west, or the forest, came Rolf Raynor, as Robin Hood, and his men. The beautiful Maid Marian, Miss Lucile LaMar, was with Robin Hood and his procession, and was on horse back. Robin Hood asked the queen's permission to allow his dancers to perform in honor of the queen, which was granted.

The Maid Marian and her dancers, in their bright colored garments, performed first for the queen. The queen was so pleased that she sent a lady-in-waiting to bid Marian to come and occupy a place beside the throne. After the dancers came the minstrel singers, tumblers, peasants, archers, and other dancers, that performed before the queen.

The queen presented to Robin Hood on his departure a ring. Robin Hood in return presented the queen with his cape. The queen and the sheriff then lead the procession back to the castle.

Bandit Killed After Attempting Hold-Up

Kansas City Negro Bank Guard Fires Fatal Shot—Victim Is Partially Identified As Chicago Man.

Kansas City, May 23.—Firing in defense of Mrs. Fritz Muder and $4,500 which she carried, Jesse Moore, negro guard, shot and killed a man partially identified as A. Lauree of Chicago, who attempted to rob the woman on a downtown corner this morning.

Mrs. Moore, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, had just drawn the money from the bank and was standing waiting for a street car, when a well-dressed young man took her by the arm, ordered her to come with him, and reached for a revolver when she protested.

At that moment, Moore a bank guard fired at the bandit. The hold-up man fled toward a motor car, which was moving slowly. Moore fired again and the bandit fell from the machine. As he fell, he loosened his revolver and fired twice at Moore. The negro took time to aim and sent the death bullet through the robber's head.

Crowds and downtown workers and shoppers fled as the street duel took place.

An ambulance hurrying to the scene smashed into the curb and George Harman the driver, was slightly injured.

Sanford Kaufman of Graham was in Maryville today.

WHO THE POLE FLYERS ARE

Capt. Roald Amundsen, leader, discovered the South Pole, the north magnetic pole and was the first traveler through the northwest passage.

Lincoln Ellsworth, American, born in Chicago, is a graduate of Columbia University, New York, and McGill University, Montreal. He has been among other things a mining engineer in Alaska, and an aviator in France during the war.

Hjalmar Larsen, pilot, is a Norwegian naval officer.

Lief Dietrichsen, also pilot, is likewise a naval officer.

Carl Feucht, mechanic, is a German acquainted with Dornier machines.

Oskar Omdahl, mechanic, is a Norweigan who has been long associated with Amundsen.

FLIGHT'S FATE YET UNKNOWN

NO MESSAGES RECEIVED FROM AMUNDSEN EXPEDITION.

WEATHER IS CHEERING

Experts Believe Exploring Party Either Landed At Pole or Discovered Intermediate Land En Route.

Oslo, Norway, May 23.—Artic weather conditions were reported tonight to be excellent.

This cheers the anxious, still waiting for word of the return of Capt. Roald Amundsen and his polar flyers.

London, May 23.—Artic experts, says the Exchange Telegraph's Oslo correspondent, think the absence of news from the Amundsen air expedition to the North Pole indicates he either landed at the pole or discovered intermediate land and, descending to explore, may perhaps have encountered difficulty in again ascending.

Should Amundsen be forced to abandon his planes, it was suggested that nothing probably would be heard from him until next year after winter breaks up in northern Greenland, which would be his probable goal.

Oslo, Norway, May 23.—The success or failure of Capt. Roald Amundsen's spectacular dash to the North Pole and the fate of the explorers themselves still remained hidden today in the ice-locked polar north.

No word has come from Captain Amundsen or Lieut. Lincoln Ellsworth, Ohio aviator, and four men who hopped off in two airplanes Thursday afternoon.

President Is Recovered From Sudden Illness

Will Take Usual Trip On Mayflower This Afternoon—Cancels All of His White House Engagements.

Washington, May 23.—President Coolidge suffered a slight attack of indigestion while at the executive office this morning, but so promptly recovered that he will take a party of friends on the usual week-end cruise on the Mayflower this afternoon.

Because of his indisposition, President Coolidge cancelled all of his engagements at the White House and returned to the executive mansion.

Weather Phenomena Is Due Here by Tonight

Heat Wave From South Will Meet Freezing Weather Headed This Way—Storms May Result.

Chicago, May 23.—Chicago and vicinity are due tonight to witness one of the most abnormal weather phenomena in its history, according to Prof. Henry J. Cox, chief forecaster of the local bureau.

A mid-summer heat wave from the Southwest is racing toward Chicago on high winds, and at the same time freezing weather is headed this way with equal velocity from the North and Northwest.

The two extremes are scheduled to reach the city tonight, and Professor Cox announces violent wind and rain storms will follow. He said that the storm may reach almost tornado proportions. He urged that small crafts remain at their home ports.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Devault of Elmo were Maryville visitors today.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS JAPAN

CO-INCIDENT ERUPTION OF YAKEGATAKE VOLCANO.

LARGE LOSS OF LIFE

Red Cross Cables Offer to Help Sufferers in Earthquake Zone—Sympathies Extended by Payne.

Tokio, May 23.—A disastrous earthquake rocked the Sanin district at 11 o'clock this morning, coincident with an eruption of Yakegatake volcano, and early reports indicate considerable destruction, and probable large loss of life.

Tokio, May 23.—Meager reports trickling into Tokio tonight over crippled wires indicated that the earthquake shock which rocked the Sanin district today took a toll of one thousand dead and injured. The dead, however, are not expected to exceed one hundred.

Airplanes sent out from Osaka reported the town of Toyooka, which has a population of 10,000, half burned down in the fire that followed the earthquake.

Fires are still burning in many sections, including the forest reserves. It was estimated tonight that 20,000 persons were homeless in the devastated district.

Relief trains carrying surgeons, nurses and ambulances have been dispatched to the quake zone. A detachment of troops also was proceeding from Osaka to guard property and fight fire.

Some idea of its intensity was secured from the experts who pointed out that the horizontal vibrations on the seismograph tape reached the dimension of three inches which was greater than the earthquake which caused the Tokio disaster in 1923.

London, May 23.—The earthquake which shook Osaka, Kobe and Kyoto at 11 o'clock this morning was the worst in thirty years, according to a Tokio dispatch to the Evening News.

Tokio, May 23.—A distinct earthquake was felt here at 11:45 o'clock tonight. No damage was reported.

Washington, May 23.—An offer to help the sufferers of the Japanese earthquake zone was cabled to the Japanese Red Cross by John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, today.

"We extend our deepest sympathy to the sufferers of the earthquake," Payne's message said. "Can we be of assistance?"

Debtor Nations Must Pay Interest to U. S.

Countries Which Are Making Payments To Others Than America To Be Pressed Strongly.

Washington, May 23.—European nations which are paying interest on reconstruction loans to countries other than the United States will be pressed strongly by the Coolidge administration to fund promptly war debts to this government, it was learned today at the state department.

The department holds that such payments are discriminatory against the United States and has thus notified the nations which are making the interest payments, principally France and Belgium, it was said.

On the way down their car ignited and before the blaze could be extinguished destroyed all of the entertainer's musical instruments as well as the car.

A BUREAU THAT IS NEEDED.

Government bureaus are becoming unpopular with the American people who have just sensed a trend in the United States toward the bureaucratic in government administration. Being a bureau the United States department of agriculture naturally comes under the public suspicion but if there ever comes a time when the taxpayers undertake to reverse the pendulum this federal bureau will be one of the last to go if it goes at all.

If the department of agriculture had been in existence fifty years ago the potato bug would not now be destroying potatoes of a value of millions of dollars each year, the boll weevil would still be confined to Central America instead of preying on the cotton crop in the South, there would have been no blight to destroy the chestnut trees and the crops and trees would have been spared other blights and pestilential parasites.

Since its inception in 1889 this department has saved the growers uncounted millions. A ban, recently placed on the importation of certain flower bulbs, is expected to save growers and garden makers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

What Other Editors Say

(Conception Courier).

Those who, despite the threatening weather, attended the Commencement Exercises at the M. E. Church last Friday evening were all repaid for so doing. The address made by L. M. Eek, President of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, was not only interesting and instructive but timely. Mr. Eek pointed out the necessity of acquiring an education in order to "make good" in the intensive battle of life. He also said that someone, he knew not who, helped him to obtain his education and it was up to him to help others do the same. He also warned the people of this district not to allow the Public School to take a step backward, as we had passed the crucial period and that from this time on the maintenance of a First Class School would be comparatively easy. In referring to the matter of tax levies, he gave some very interesting facts and figures in which this district, by comparison, is in first class condition. He urged the patrons of the disirict to follow the advice contained in the class motto "Keep A Goin" and thus do their full duty as good progressive citizens. Mr. Eek is a graduate of Northwestern University, of Chicago, and is an up to date business man, fully alive to the possibilities now open to young men about to engage in their life's work. The people of this district, like Mr. Eek, acquired an education, be it great or small, in part at least, by the help of others, and all should feel that they, in their turn, should provide in every way possible the most efficient means for those who come after them to obtain a first class education. We have put our hands to the plow and we cannot turn back, so let us "Keep A Goin."

BOOST THE STATE PARK AND NORTHWEST MISSOURI

(St. Joseph News-Press)

Changed conditions of industry, with the proportion of the nation's population engaged in indoor occupations constantly increasing, have made play and recreation in the open a necessity. There has been thus created a problem which Americans a few generations ago, with their predominantly rural and outdoor pursuits, would not have understood.

Since people need to play they must have a place to play, and such a place is now proposed in the tract on the Missouri River bluffs, just north of the St. Joseph waterworks, in Buchanan and Andrew counties. The tract, in scenic beauty especially adapted for use as a public recreation field, happens to be near St. Joseph, but that fact should not prejudice the plea of its supporters that it be made a state park.

If so designed it would be a state park, not in any sense a city park. It would be to northwest Missouri what the parks already acquired are to south and southeast Missouri. The fact that it is near a city would add to its value by making it readily accessible to a large proportion of the state's population. All roads in northwest Missouri would lead to Lanowa Park.

At the Chamber of Commerce early tomorrow afternoon is to be held a meeting for the purpose of forming an organization to boost the park. All public-spirited citizens of St. Joseph and the contiguous territory should attend the meeting and contribute their efforts toward this worthy cause.

In effect, the call specifies: "The object is to provide a permanent organization of persons in Atchison, Nodaway Holt, Andrew, Buchanan and Platte counties and such other counties east of them and north of the Missouri as may desire to unite in the common purpose of exploiting and conserving the scenic, historic and legendary attractions of northwest Missouri. It will also engage in the extension of these purposes throughout the northwestern quarter of the state and throughout the entire northern half if such interest develops. It is to be limited to publicity and promotion, involves no individual expense of consequence, and will be incorporated under a pro forma decree."

This is not merely a St. Joseph proposition. It is of importance to all of northwest Missouri. There is not a citizen in this section, nor a vocation, business, social or civic interest which will not be greatly benefited by this organization. It is something every community north of the river has needed and the need is constantly growing more imperative as our highways reach a point of completion. There should be a concerted and well-organized medium for making all America know, for a fact, that here is "the garden spot of the world," as compared as Bayard Taylor, the celebrated American author and traveler, said of it many years ago when our country was primitive.

Fifty Years Ago

(Taken From the Nodaway Democrat, May 20, 1875).

We clip the following from the Albany Ledger regarding a large real estate transaction:

"We saw yesterday a deed executed by Col. C. G. Comstock, of this place, to a gentleman who resides in the East, for over 300,000 acres of land. This land is distributed throughout Worth County. This transaction shows that Eastern capitalists are not afraid to invest money in the Grand River country of Missouri."

The new wholesale and retail grocery firm of T. C. Sawyers & Co., have just opened up a choice and large stock of groceries on the west side of the square in the business house immediately south of J. Lieber & Co's. store. These gentlemen came from Independence, Jackson County.

Through the kindness of Deputy Sheriff Huffman we are enabled to present our readers with the names of the petit jurors drawn for the July term of the Nodaway Circuit court. They are as follows:

Maryville has been sadly in need of a new omnibus for a long time and at last we can boast of one. Tom Shoemaker has purchased a beautiful new bus direct from the manufacturers at Burlington, Ia., and is now carrying passengers to and from the depot.

The traffic in gopher scalps in Nodaway County this spring is no small item. On Saturday, the eighth instant, county clerk Jackson and deputy Graham issued certificates for 700 gopher scalps. By eleven o'clock on last Saturday the county clerk had issued certificates for gopher scalps amounting to $223.

We have not as yet learned of the grasshoppers making their appearance in any considerable numbers in Nodaway County and we are led to believe that our crops will not be damaged by these insects as but few of their eggs were deposited here.

From the reports that come to us from all sections of Nodaway County we infer that there will be a much larger amount of corn planted this spring that ever before.

The frame business house of S. V. Dooly is now being moved to make room for a substantial brick business house that will be erected on its site this summer.

G. Davidson, postmaster at Luteston, in Independence township, was in town last Tuesday attending to business and called at the Democrat office.

S. Chuster Block has received a new coat of paint which greatly improves it appearance.

A street sprinkler is badly needed in Maryville.

Mash Is Discovered Near Iowa Line Today

Lee Ingram Is Arrested and Will Probably Enter Plea of Guilty In Court Today.

Lee Ingram entered plea of guilty to illegal possession of mash. He was assessed a fine of $500 and imprisonment of six months in jail.

Two barrels of mash and parts of an illicit still were confiscated today by county officers in a raid on the Lee Ingram farm, located north of Hopkins, close to the Iowa line. Ingram who was arrested this morning, will probably enter a plea of guilty to the charge of possession of a still late this afternoon in circuit court, George Pat Wright, prosecuting attorney was of the opinion early this afternoon.

He issued two search warrants this morning and three officers, Sheriff L. B. Campbell, Deputy England and Rasco and Lloyd Heffner, made a sudden trip up into the northern part of the county near the county line and searched the premises of two farms. No evidence for conviction was obtained on one of the places in the vicinity of the Ingram farm, but the officers were confident illicit liquor had been manufactured there recently from the farm buildings. At the Ingram farm the officers discovered the two barrels of mash, containers, and parts of a still, which were brought to Maryville.

A Man Without a Party

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson For May 24, 1925.

Read Acts 9.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

When, under the gentle ministrations of Ananias, after a period of blindness, Saul again looked out upon the world he saw it with different eyes. He looked with horror upon that pare of his careef when he persecuted the Christians, when he broke into their meetings, when he testified against them and sent them to prison and sometimes to death. He saw Jesus as the Son of God and accepted Him as such.

What must have been his thoughts when he considered his own position, for Saul was an executive, a leader and accustomed to thinking out his problems. In the quiet of his room after he had talked with Ananias and other Christians and had verified many things which he did not know, he began to consider his own situation. He had just determined to be a follower of Jesus and this meant the most radical turning about possible. What would his former friends and associates think about him?

There was no question in his own mind about this. He knew that they would call him a traitor and he knew also that they would probably go so far as to desire his life. There is no hatred so bitter as the hatred engendered in a family quarrel and this was a family quarrel. Paul had been a Pharisee of the strictest sect, he was an official, he had climbed to a high place in the councils of his party and had been entrusted with important affairs. Now he was going to turn back on his old friends and join that despised sect which was afterward to be known as Christians.

These thoughts must have occupied Saul in the few days he remained with Ananias. There must have been some bitter thoughts when he remembered what he was giving up, worldly position a life time of friendships and all things which in his old life he had held dear.

I do not think Saul hesitated or considered for a moment going back to his old life. That he realized the bitterness of the strife which his course would bring upon him we can not doubt, for Saul was a man of the world. He was a brave man and he never faltered.

It was necessary for him to get out of Damascus. Word had come to the Jews. Perhaps they had letters notifying them that Saul was on the way and to help him. Saul did not show up at the appointed places and the story straggled in, probably from some of the officers who were with him on the trip. The Jews at once planned to kill the traitor. Ananias heard of the plans. Saul escaped by being let down outside the city walls in a basket. Only a few years before this Peter had been prayed out of prison. Saul's esctpe was negotiated in a more material manner.

Saul had become Paul. He wanted to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ but he found himself a Man without a Party. His former associates, the Pharisees, sought to kill him. The Christians were afraid of him and would not hear him and would not trust him. Paul himself felt the need of preparation for his new work, and as Jesus spent forty days in the silent places of the desert, so Paul hid himself away in the wilderness. Tradition has it that he went to Mount Sinai.

He himself says he went to Arabia. We do not know how long he remained away communing with God, praying and studying his situation from all angles and making out his plan of action. Some guess the time at three years, but this is a guess.

Paul says in Galatians: "Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days." I would like to have been present at some of these interviews. I think that they met in that upper room where so often the disciples met. Barnabas came and vouched for him. Barnabas and Saul were probably schoolmates in Tarsus, possibly they were good friends long before Saul was promoted to the work in Jerusalem and Barnabas had become a Christian. Barnabas told the disciples that Paul was right, he signed his bond, he vouched for him.

At the first meeting with Peter there must have been a most interesting talk. Paul told Peter the details of his trip to Damascus. How ever since the death of Stephen he had been thinking and thinking until the climax came near Damascus. He told how he had been stricken blind and of the ministrations of Ananias and solemnly declared to Peter that he Paul was a believer in Jesus Christ and was going to devote his life to the cause.

It seems to me then that Peter took up the thread of the story and told Paul of his wonderful experiences with Jesus, how he had tried to walk on the water and of that time when the Christ asked "Who do you say that I am?" and Peter's inspiration and declaration. I think Peter, rather sadly, told Paul also of his cowardice and his repudiation of the master.

Something of all this must have taken place before Paul was ready for his work. And then he served in an unimportant place for ten years before leadership came to him.

A lot of young men want to spring full-fledged into the best places offering in their calling and become impatient at the years of college and the years of theological seminary and at the years of small responsibilities. Paul was forty years old before he stood out as the Christian leader.

Paul never wavered in his new faith. He never protested at his humble position. He did what came to him to do as best he could and when the time came, flashed across the horizon of the Christian world as the greatest of the great leaders of the Christian church. Paul's name and his preaching and his writing and his theology formulated the organization to which we belong today.

Saul the Pharisee became that man without a party, then the man of the hour, the Christian leader to whom we of the Christian world owe so much. How he acquitted himself will be developed as we study his work in subsequent lessons.

THE PANTLEGGER IS ANOTHER BIG PROBLEM.

Bluegrass Carnival at King City on June 2

Velma Clevenger Will Be Crowned Queen of the Bluegrass Seed Harvest Amid Royal Pomp.

A big day is planned at King City Tuesday, June 2, the date of the King City Commercial Club's big third annual Bluegrass Carnival, when Velma Clevenger will be crowned queen of the bluegrass seed harvest amid royal court pomp and array. There will be a parade, a pageant, speaking and a banquet in addition.

The festivities will start with the parade at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be horses, chariots, Roman gladiators, floats, bands, "bluegrass beauties" and soldiers of the bluegrass harvest. The parade will escort the queen to the high school campus where the pageant and coronation will be held. In the pageant there will be exhibitions of boxing, wrestling and tumbling, along with other sports in vogue in the time of the Roman Empire's strength.

E. A. Logan of the United States Department of Agriculture will make the principal afternoon address.

The banquet at 7:30 o'clock that night will be in the Christian Church parlors. Dr. A. J. McClung, a St. Joseph minister, will make the principal banquet speech, and there will also be an elaborate musical program.

King City is making preparations to accommodate a great crowd for the third annual festival, which the persons there claim will be "bigger and better than ever."

INDEPENDENCE.

The funeral of Mrs. Schuyler Donnel which was held at Hopkins Sunday afternoon was well attended. It was a cold gloomy day but a large crowd was present. Edna will be missed in the neighborhood as well as the home. The pall bearers were, Stanley and Stanford Peuce, Walter and Harley Cox, Albert Wallace and Call Clouse. The flower girls were the Misses Viola, Martha and Ada Brandt, and Oma Bancroft, close friends of Mrs. Donnel. Burial was in the Hopkins cemetery.

The funeral of Walter Pollock was held at the home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. James of Maryville, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted the services. A quartette composed of the Misses Loriae and Norine Burch and Ned and Chas. Smith of Clearmont, sang "Going Down the Valley," "Saved by Grace" and "Sometime We'll Understand." The pall bearers were Jake Cox, Russell Holmes, Wm. Roy, Howard Bancroft, Jess Cox and Geo. Ripley. A brother from Oklahoma came for the funeral. Burial was in the Hazel Dell cemetery.

Mrs. Burl Hess and children visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray, Sunday afternoon.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, May 23.—Grain futures finished the week with substantial gains on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Crop news was the bullish incentive in the wheat trade.

Considerable attention was paid an interview given by James A. Patten in which he said the country was faced with a short wheat crop unless the Northwest receives rain. He spoke encouragingly of higher prices. Export sales were light with bids about 3 cents under the market.

Corn gathered most of its strength from wheat. There was no active buying but selling dwindled. Buying late was in the way of short covering.

Talk of export business failed to stir up the oats trade.

Provisions rallied and recovered from losses with other grains.

Corn planting will be practically completed in this vicinity this week, though a few farmers will not finish before the middle of next week. Some replanting is being done on account of the ravages of worms and insects.

Wheat and oats were greatly benefited by the rains the latter part of last week as was also the meadows and pastures.

A few farmers are cutting their alfalfa this week and getting a good crop from it.

The crop prospect in general is better than the average year on account of the preparation of the seed bed being more thorough than usual.

Attendance at Elmo Church Is Increased

(By Edgar O. Wells, Minister.)

A falling off in the attendance at Sunday School last Sunday morning, and a fine gain in that of the congregation, shows that people do not rush to first at the house of God, as they do to get to an entertainment at the opera house, but the day will come when all will be there at the moment specified in the plan of the Almighty for the day of judgment, and pray our Father that we are not found calling for the rocks and the mountains to fall upon us, to hide us from his glorified countenance." We had planned for a fine attendance for the evening service, but "the best laid schemes of mice and men aft gang aglee," saith the poet, and the crowd was at the railway station, to show respect and sympathy for "The mourners who go about the streets," and who could blame them, it was so like our Master.

The morning service for next Sunday will be given to the observance of a memorial service for our honored dead of the Civil War, and after worship the pastor will preach on "The Blue and the Gray," or "When Nations Learn War No More. The Universal Triumph of This Mind." This will be a continuation of the series of sermons to the young people, with the thought of the recent graduates in each grade at the Elmo High.

Look out for that sermon on "The Dominion and Doom of the Devil, in the near future.

Who says a Sunday School contest for attendance in the county? Andrew is in one, not for a prize, but for increase: I say yes! What say others?

Honey Dew Pig Meal

28½ % Protein
Equal to Mother's Milk
New Method of Raising Hogs and Pigs Successfully

REMEMBER THIS—THE MOST CRITICAL TIME IN A PIG'S LIFE IS WEANING TIME. If you take little pigs from mother's milk and put them on coarse feed all of a sudden without a substitute for mother's milk, you invite trouble.

You must have a Pig Meal high in available, digestible protein and as near mother's milk as possible. Honey Dew Pig Meal is the highest quality of all. HONEY DEW DOES IT.

Corn and oats exclusively are not a proper feed for little pigs at weaning time, as the little pigs at this time are not old enough to handle coarse, unbalanced feeds like corn and oats.

How the pig starts at weaning time means either success or failure. Pigs wean themselves on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL without setbacks or bowel trouble.

These five litter brothers weaned themselves on Honey Dew Pig Meal. Pig below was taken out of the same litter. See the difference.

This pig weaned on corn and oats. Result—a runt in spite of his being the best pig of the bunch at the start.

Shoat Scale Test Producing Pork at 4c Per Pound.

Scale test on 90 pigs owned by Elmore Nauman, Mound City, Mo., weighed an average of 41 lbs. per head at start: The 90 head of pigs fed a period of 41 days on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and nothing else except water. At the end of 41 days' feed, the pigs weighed an average of 90 lbs., making a net gain of 39 lbs. of pork per head in 41 days. Each pig only consumed 41 lbs. of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and water, producing pork for less than 4 cents a pound.

How to Handle Brood Sows With Pigs.

Feed the sow HONEY DEW PIG MEAL as a slop while she is nursing her pigs. By so doing you will increase the milk flow and the sow will not fall off in fat. In short, feed the pigs by feeding the sow while the pigs are nursing. We recommend for a 250 to 300 lb. sow, one pound of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and 3 ears of corn—and nothing else except water. Little pigs will wean themselves while running with the sows. After pigs reach 4 weeks of age, place HONEY DEW PIG MEAL in dry form in self feeders with plenty of fresh water near the feeder. Fix a place where they can run in and out as they please to the feeder containing the HONEY DEW PIG MEAL. They will wean themselves in 8 weeks. No set-backs or bowel trouble.

FILLMORE ST. GRADE FIXED

CITY COUNCIL PASSES ORDINANCE LAST NIGHT.

SIX BLOCKS PAVING

Will Extend on Fillmore Street From Second to Eighth Streets—City to Meet Again Tuesday.

Passing an ordinance establishing the grade on Fillmore street between Second and Fourth streets indicates that six blocks of paving will be laid on this roadway in Maryville this summer, between Second street and Eighth street, the city executive, Mayor W. O. Garrett, said this morning.

The city council at a special session last night passed an ordinance establishing the grade on the portion of Fillmore street from the north line of Second street to the south line of Fourth street.

The ordinance becomes effective ten days after its passage and approval. The council adjourned last night after passing this ordinance to meet again Tuesday night, May 26, when the paving resolution will be introduced. The carrying out of the preliminary work for the paving program this year in Maryville has necessitated a great number of extra meetings of the city commissioners.

Last night was the fifth consecutive meeting held by the council this week, and in order to prepare, introduce and adopt grade ordinances, paving resolutions and ordinances for the Fillmore street paving project and other roadways that may be improved by pavement, means nothing more than a summer of endless sessions of the city commissioners.

Mayor Garrett said that the city council would use the "forcing law" as provided by the state statutes, for one block of paving on Fillmore street, in order to connect up paving that has been requested to commence at Third street on Fillmore. The legislative body of the city government is empowered to order in up to 1,200 lineal feet of paving to connect up portions of paving on a continuous stretch of roadway.

This week the council decided in favor of paving Fillmore street between Fourth and Eighth streets, as remonstrators to this paving were in the minority as to ownership of front footage. Resident property owners on Fillmore between Third and Fourth streets have requested the council to order paving on this portion of the street. The council now takes the opinion that with this much of Fillmore street bound to go through it was important and necessary that the one remaining block be ordered paved at the same time.

Mandamus Hearing in Circuit Court Today

Bennett Enters Plea of Guilty to Operating Vehicle Without License and Fined $5.

Counsel for defense this afternoon presented arguments before Judge John M. Dawson in circuit court, why the judge of the probate court should not appoint E. E. Williams curator and guardian of the estate of the minor, Eva L. Bartles, in the mandamus suit of State of Missouri, ex rel, Eva L. Bartles against Judge Jesse P. Robertson of the probate court.

In the mandamus petition the plaintiff declared that Judge Robertson refused to appoint the curator whom she designated and the arguments this afternoon were mainly in regard to technicalities of the statutes.

Judge Dawson set next Saturday for further hearing of the mandamus suit against Judge Robertson.

Attorney for the defendant in the damage suit on appeal and change of venue from Gentry County of Blondina Jones Pickering against Dr. W. E. Hartsock of St. Joseph, served notice that a motion for a new trial will be filed soon.

An attachment suit wherein the plaintiff is suing to recover $810.41 with interest at 7 per cent and attorney fee of $47.42 was filed in circuit court today for the October term of court of the Barnard State Bank against Roy and Edith Judah.

The proceedings of circuit court this morning:

In re: W. C. Pierce, trustee for Eliza Jane Ulmer, et. al., trustee files report which is approved.

Ruth N. Reeder, minor, by Zoe Maranville, guardian, against Fred A. Reeder, et. al., partition suit, the sheriff makes report of sale of land, which is approved by court and sheriff ordered to deliver deed to promise purchaser, Fred A. Reeder, and distribute proceeds of sale, after costs paid, to parties according to their interests. Judge J. H. Sayler is allowed $35 attorney fee.

Albert F. Reeder, jr., et. al. against Fred A. Reeder, et. al., partition suit, sheriff files report of sale of lands, which is approved by court and ordered to execute deed to purchaser and remit proceeds of sale to party. Judge J. H. Sayler allowed attorney fee of $75 and G. R. Ellison allowed $5 fee as guardian ad litem.

Chicago Banker Is Head of U. S. C. of C.

John W. O'Leary Is Elected President Of National Organization At Meeting of Board of Directors.

Washington, May 23.—The new board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States late yesterday inaugurated another chapter in the organization's annals by electing John W. O'Leary, Chicago banker, as its president, to succeed R. F. Grant of Cleveland, Ohio, shortly after the closing gavel had fallen on its thirteenth annual convention.

Resolutions touching a variety of public questions were adopted at the concluding session, including one approving "the recent action of the federal trade commission in adopting new rules of procedure, which it is expected, will make the work of that body increasingly constructive and helpful to American business."

Another resolution commended the department of agriculture in its efforts to bring about "voluntary constructive action" in conection with the "incessant wide speculative fluctuations in prices of grain," which, it declared, has such a harmful effect on manufacture and merchandising of cereal crops and on foreign commerce generally "as to seem to demand prompt remedial measures by the principal grain exchanges."

The convention suggested to the board of directors referendum on the subject of commercial treaty policies of the country, reiterated the chamber's position in favor of American adhesion to the world court and urged the appointment of a committee to study carefully the whole field of federal taxation. It also stated that the government should not permit any of its bureaus to so operate as to harass and annoy business by frivolous and curious inquiry into the private affairs of business men, and asked its members to cooperate with the government in the pursuit of useful and valuable information.

Mrs. Fred Newlon of Wilcox was a Maryville visitor today.
